Hello, I'm Alan B. Densky, CH. Thank you for ordering my hypnotherapy programs.

I have a motto: "What the mind causes, the mind can cure." Stress and stress related symptoms like oral cravings and compulsions are caused by our thoughts. And since we think ourselves into all of our feelings and behaviors, we can also learn how to think ourselves out of the negative ones that we want to get rid of.

Hypnosis and NLP are tools that we can use to help control our thinking at the unconscious level of mind. The unconscious is the seat of our emotions. The material in my programs is based on the experience I've gained by helping over ten thousand clients since 1978. And I know that if you are honest with yourself, and you consistently follow the directions contained in Session One of each program, You Will Be Successful!

That's why I make the following offer to you: If you are confused in any way, and you have questions, I invite you to either send me an email (sales@neuro-vision.us) with your questions, or call me at 800-617-2004 so that I can help you.

Any one of my programs can help you begin a new, more positive life, and I wish you all the best on your journey!
